General Instruction to Candidates:

FAO is a partner agency of the Global Environment Facility (GEF), to address the world's most challenging environmental issues related to biodiversity, climate change, land degradation, chemicals, and international waters. GEF provides grants to countries to meet these challenges whilst contributing to key development goals, such as food security.

In this context, FAO India is implementing the project "Green-Ag: Transforming Indian agriculture for global environmental benefits and the conservation of critical biodiversity and forest landscapes" Project under the GEF -6 cycle. This project is operational in five states (Rajasthan, Madhya Pradesh, Mizoram, Odisha, and Uttarakhand). It seeks to harmonize priorities and investments between India's agricultural and environmental sectors so that national and global environmental benefits can be fully realized without compromising India's ability to provide and develop rural livelihoods and meet its food and nutrition security and social (particularly gender) goals.

The project is implemented through two components. The first component will strengthen the enabling framework and institutional structures to mainstream bio-diversity (BD), sustainable land management (SLM), climate change mitigation (CCM) and sustainable forest management (SFM) policies, priorities and practices into India's agricultural sector, while the second component will demonstrate replicable "Improved agricultural and conservation practices".

The project will provide an evidential basis for transformational policy change across India's agricultural landscape and global conservation objectives are envisaged to be fully mainstreamed within the production landscape of the project sites in policy and practice. Partnerships between agencies at both the national and state level responsible for agricultural production and conservation will be much better coordinated to identify, engage, and monitor cooperative conservation practices effectively. Further, decision-makers will have the tools required to generate agricultural policies that more fully reflect environmental concerns and innovative practices, and priority conservation landscapes across India will benefit from heightened levels of response, intervention, and innovative policy support.

The project works at the national, state and landscape levels. In Odisha it is implemented in Similipal Biosphere of Mayurbhanj District. For operationalization, Director, Soil Conservation and Watershed Development has been notified as Nodal Officer for the project in Odisha. Two entities namely State Project Management Unit at Bhubaneswar and Green Landscape Implementation Unit at Baripada are established for implementation for project activities. Institute on Management of Agricultural Extension (IMAGE), Siripur, Bhubaneswar being identified as Operational Partner (OP) of FAO for project implementation and PD, watersheds,
